Thank you for your interest in supporting City Harvest! If your food donation meets the standards listed below, we will rescue your excess food and deliver it to help feed the nearly 1.2 million New Yorkers who are facing food insecurity.

City Harvest can safely accept:

-  Fresh produce
-  Prepared foods (that haven't been served)
-  Chilled, perishable, unopened packaged foods
-  Refrigerated or frozen meat and poultry and frozen seafood
-  Dairy products
-  Unopened frozen foods without freezer-burn
-  Bread (sliced bread, bagels, and rolls only)
-  Unopened canned and packaged food

City Harvest cannot accept:

- Food that has been served or put on a buffet
- Food that has been previously reheated
- Food that was not kept at the appropriate temperature (41 degrees Fahrenheit, or below)
- Food that contains alcohol
- Food with severe freezer-burn
- Food intended for raw consumption
- Canned goods that are opened, punctured, bulging, or seriously damaged
- Home prepared, home canned, or home-jarred food
- Food stored in opaque bags (City Harvest will provide you with clear, plastic food-grade bags)

Who we are:

Mission

City Harvest exists to end hunger in communities throughout New York City. We do this through food rescue and distribution, education, and other practical, innovative solutions.

Our Story

We are New York City's largest food rescue organization. City Harvest collects food that would otherwise go to waste and delivers it, free of charge, to help feed the nearly 1.2 million New Yorkers who are struggling to put meals on their tables.

How we work:

Grocers, farms, manufacturers, and restaurants donate excess food that would otherwise go to waste.

We deliver this food to hundreds of soup kitchens, food pantries and other community food programs, free of charge.

Our partner community food programs and Mobile Markets provide food to residents in need.

Get involved:

Fundraise:

Any activity, large or small, can be an opportunity to fundraise for City Harvest and help feed our neighbors in need!

Volunteer:

Your passion, skills, and time are important resources for our anti-hunger network.

Donate Food:

Run a food drive for City Harvest or drop off non-perishable items at existing drop off locations.
